Mississippi Floods Lowlands

River Drops Upstream From Quincy

By The Associated Press
THE ruinous Mississippi River showed signs of relenting temporarily Monday after punching through a levee into rich Illinois farmland. But its cohort, the Missouri, raged on.

By veering off into 30,000 acres of bottomland near Meyer in the Quincy, Ill., area, devastating cropland and routing livestock, the Mississippi slowly dropped, officials said, reassuring other communities downstream.

Three-Foot Drop
Farther north, at Gregory Landing, Mo., the level dropped nearly three feet since Sunday night's levee-topping 22.3 mark.

At Canton, Mo., adjacent to Meyer, the same decline was noted, with a measurement of 18 feet.

Officials stressed however, the respite might be brief and that another rise could begin after one or two days.

Hundreds of Canton's 2,500 residents fled Sunday, abandoning lowlying homes. Late Monday, officials pronounced the community in good shape but added, "we are just sitting and waiting now."

As the river forecast center in St. Louis canceled most forecasts of rises for the Mississippi, pressure continued to build up along the Missouri to the west.

$5 Million Loss
Lt. Gen. Emerson C. Itchner, Army Engineers Corps chief, returned from an aerial inspection of the Missouri basin and estimated damage at about five million dollars.

Mounting pressure was noted at Hermann and St. Charles, Mo., on the Missouri. At Hermann the stage was 27.1 feet, with a crest of 29 feet expected by Thursday evening. The levee there protects 29,000 acres of farmland.

St. Charles reported a stage of 30 feet—five feet above flood stage—with another 2½ feet predicted by Friday, imperiling 10,000 acres.

Convicts joined the National Guard troops and civilian volunteers in shoring up dikes at the chief points of peril in the flood zone, which encompassed a 50-mile stretch along the Mississippi from Iowa's southern border southward to Hannibal, Mo.

$0.140 Leave Homes
The Red Cross estimated 30-140 persons have been affected by the floods—those forced to move or whose homes have been damaged—in eight states.

Of this total, a Red Cross spokesman said, 28,000 persons have been forced to abandon their homes. He predicted the number of homeless would rise to 40,000 before the waters recede.

Robert C. Edson, director of Red Cross disaster services, said the agency would provide assistance in repairing, refurbishing or rebuilding homes to victims lacking adequate resources of their own. The estimate of damaged homes rose to nearly 7,000.

More than 300 convicts were sent into the battle along the Missouri River. Most of them were assigned to sandbag totting details near Cedar City, Mo. About 40 inmates of the Alamo Reformatory were put to work on the Missouri shores near Hartsburg, Mo.

Guardsmen Alert
All National Guard units in Missouri were alerted to check on trucks and other equipment for possible emergency use along the flood front.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower designated flood-stricken regions of Nebraska as a major disaster area and announced that Leo A. Hoegh, chief of the Office of Civilian and Defense Mobilization, will fly to the Midwest for conferences. He was expected to visit Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois and perhaps several other states.

Showdown Hour Arrives

Kennedy Given Edge In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Senators aspiring to the presidency sparred furiously down to the finish line Monday in a blazing election eve finale to Wisconsin's Democratic primary campaign.

The people pass judgment Tuesday at the ballot boxes. More than a million Wisconsin residents will vote between 7 a.m. when the first polls open and 8 p.m., when the last close. Thirty convention votes are at stake in both Democratic and Republican primaries with a 31st Democratic vote already allotted to the National Committee members.

In closing days of the drive, religion and records have become key issues. And, at the very end, so did a salient facet of foreign policy—a moratorium on nuclear tests and support of the Eisenhower administration on that score.

Belated Interest
Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts hit something of a headline jackpot on the test issue with a written pledge to President Eisenhower to continue the administration policy should he become the next chief executive.

Supporters of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey tried hard to recoup. They snorted that Kennedy is showing a sudden, belated interest in disarmament, as they contend he has in a sound farm program.

It is Kennedy against Humphrey in the first full-scale political vital contest for the chances of either to pick off the Democratic presidential nomination at the convention in Los Angeles next July.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is in the primary on the Republican side, with no opposition. But he could come out of the primary with tarnished prestige and a reflection on his popularity if he fails to show well in a state where Republican roots are strong.

Overpowering Humphrey and making a respectable showing against Nixon is vital to Kennedy's political strategy of walking into the Democratic convention with a commanding and perhaps unbeatable lead. Humphrey and other rivals hope to pare Kennedy's strength down to the point of stalling his momentum and guaranteeing that the nomination won't be all but settled before the convention begins.

Final Day
On the final day of campaigning, Kennedy swung wider geographically. The Humphrey camp swung the harder political licks at the outset.

Kennedy scrambled around the Milwaukee area — it casts upward of a third of the Democratic votes in the state — then winged away to Superior. He was invading there what is regarded as territory where Humphrey has strength—the once prosperous but now depressed iron range and timber country of the far northwestern corner of the state.

Humphrey stalked by campaign bus through the rich dairylands between Milwaukee and Madison, the capital.

Practically all the political authorities in Wisconsin and those who have wandered in from the outside reached the conclusion that Kennedy was the likely winner.

What the story of the actual balloting will be is subject to several unfathomable influences.

For one thing, there is Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion. Both senators have soft-pedaled it. Both have said they hoped nobody will vote for or against a candidate because of his faith.

Religious Issue
Yet there are bound to be people who will vote for Kennedy because he is a Catholic and for Humphrey because he isn't. Some of them may be Republicans who are entitled by law to vote in the Democratic primary.

While Humphrey has shied off from the religious issue, he contends he has been racking up gains by cutting loose in the last three weeks at Kennedy's voting record in Congress, particularly on farm measures. Kennedy concedes that in the last few years he has switched allegiance from flexible to high, rigid price supports accompanied by firm production controls.

To what extent Humphrey has gathered in votes by plugging this "issue of the issues" is impossible to measure accurately.

So, too, is the amount of advantage, if any, Kennedy may have gained by unveiling his letter to Eisenhower saying that if he is elected next November "I will undertake to carry out in good faith any (nuclear test) moratorium extending beyond your term of office." He said he was doing this in hopes it would help the President to bring about agreement on a vital matter without having to worry about the upcoming election.

Group Launches Education Study
HARRISBURG (AP)—A special study committee on education Monday was charged with the important, coordinate task of devising taxation to support Pennsylvania's public schools.

"Your job is to translate money into brain power," Gov. David L. Lawrence told the first meeting of his committee and its staff.

Heston Wins 'Oscar' As Best Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Charlton Heston, the chariot-racing early Christian of "Ben-Hur," and Simone Signoret, the plump, love-starved wife of "Room at the Top," were hailed the best star performers of 1959 at the Academy Awards Monday night.

"Ben-Hur," the most expensive movie ever made, was named best picture of the year and won more awards than any other film in academy history—11 Oscars.

Shelly Winters, the warmly human Jewish housewife of "The Diary of Anne Frank," and Hugh Griffith, spade-bearded horse trader of "Ben-Hur," were selected best supporting players at the 32nd annual awards.

Veteran director William Wyler won his third Oscar for "Ben-Hur." It was a magnificent evening for the chariot epic.

The most number of Oscars won previously by a film was "Gigi's" nine last year.

Police Beat Hundreds Of Negroes

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Squads of police used clubs, whips and gunfire Monday in an effort to drive rebelliously idling Negroes back to work and clear the streets of alleged troublemakers.

Witnesses said hundreds of Negroes apparently were beaten. One witness told of police using sjamboks — whips made of strips of rubber — on Negroes near Caledon Square in the center of the city.

Unofficial reports said 35 persons were wounded by gunfire when police cordoned off Nyanga east and west townships and made a methodical house to house search in some areas for Africans who had not gone back to work.

Four Shot
Police denied many were wounded by gunfire. Hospitals confirmed four were wounded by the first gunfire.

The townships are strongholds of the Pan Africanist Congress. It organized a work boycott last week in protest against police shootings of demonstrators who defied South Africa's white supremacy laws requiring nonwhites to carry passbooks.

Five out of six Negro workers observed the boycott at its height last week, but about 60 percent of the labor force returned to work Monday.

meeting that non-party registered voters, not registered in either the Republican or Democratic rolls, will be allowed to vote on the issue of harness racing in Monroe County during the coming Primary Election.

It was explained by the commissioners that the machines will be blocked from any votes for either party, with the allowance of voting on the question of racing only for these voters to decide.

The announcement that the courthouse would be closed on Good Friday and the following day, Saturday, April 15-16, was also made by the commissioners.

County Passes Ordinance On Property Renovations

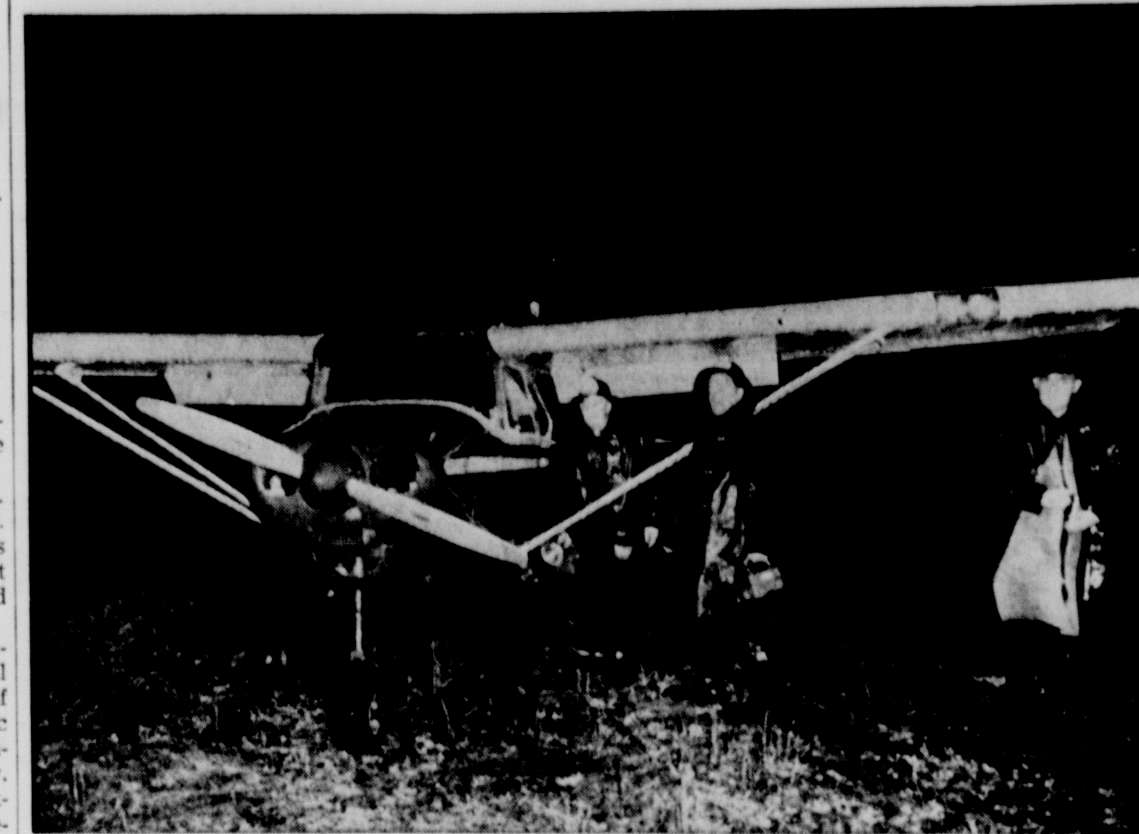

AN ORDINANCE, requiring the filing of property improvement reports with the county assessor's office, was passed yesterday by the Monroe County Commissioners at their meeting at the courthouse.

Ten ordinance, to be enforced by Chief Assessor George Brands, requires that all persons in the county owning property on which improvements are being made or to be made, must file the improvement report with the office within 30 days after the start of such improvements.

The resolution, passed by the commissioners, reads that since there are no building permit regulations within the county, the improvement report will contain the following: 1.—The name and address of the property owner must be on the report; 2.—A description sufficient to identify the real property must be on the report; 3.—The nature of the improvements to be made must be described on the report; 4.—The amount, in dollars, of the improvements must be given.

Subject To Prosecution
Failure to file such a report will bring prosecution in the future, with a possible maximum fine of $50, the resolution reads.

Effective date of the ordinance will be April 30, 1960. It was announced at the

Heavy Weather Forces Pilot To Land Plane In Field Here

A DAVENPORT, Iowa, pilot was forced to land his Piper 135 Tri-pacer in a field of the Mazetti farm, one mile off Chipperfield Drive, yesterday about dusk.

Kenneth C. Booth, the pilot, was not injured nor was there any damage to his plane. Booth, an engineer and in the construction business, was en route from Boston, Mass., to Williamsport, Pa., to visit his brother.

Booth said, "I was flying south of my original flight plan to avoid the heavy weather to the north, and it was getting dark and I wanted to put the plane down for the night. I was looking for the local airport but could not see it due to the weather and no lights on at the field.

"I saw a hole in the clouds and came down to look. I saw the field and it looked fine for landing. Several passes were made to make sure that the ground was all right, and I landed the plane downwind and taxied it in a position for take off."

Mrs. Edward Knobb, Chipperfield Drive, saw the plane flying low and then disappeared. The time was about 6:30 p.m. She called Civil Defense headquarters and CD dispatched a fire truck, and crew, from Stroud Township Volunteer Fire Co. to the scene of the landing. There being no danger of fire, the truck returned to the firehouse.

Firemen took Booth to the Penn-Stroud Hotel where he spent the night.

When interviewed in his room in the hotel, he said, "I have contacted the Federal Aviation Agency and closed out my flight plan as required. Actually there is nothing serious about my landing in the field. I had enough gas to fly another hour and a half before being in danger of running out of gas."

Booth said that he planned to take off today, weather conditions permitting, and fly to Williamsport.

Boy Drowns In Creek; Hunt Body

MARTINS CREEK — A five-year-old boy fell off a bridge ledge here yesterday into swirling Martins Creek and drowned, State Police of Easton reported.

The youth, Brant Douglas Oslin, was playing with his brother, David, when he slipped into the creek which had been swollen by recent rains.

Police will continue the search for the body today.

Young Oslin is survived by his parents, Elwood and Harriet Oslin, and five brothers and sisters, all of the Borough of Martins Creek.

Peace Turns On Berlin, Nikita Warns

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned Monday that refusal to change the status of Western-occupied West Berlin "can lead mankind to the brink of war."

Reporting on his 11-day French tour to 17,000 Muscovites in the Sports Palace, he said disarmament is the world's foremost problem. But he concentrated his fire on the smoldering German issue.

His talks with French President Charles de Gaulle will be helpful in preparations for the summit conference in Paris next month, Khrushchev said. Yet he admitted differences with De Gaulle on major issues and showed no inclination of budging from positions rejected by the West.

"As for disarmament, which is the most important question facing the world today, I would say that our (his and De Gaulle's) opinions coincide," Khrushchev declared in the course of a homecoming speech in which he drew repeated applause.

France Not Sold
He did not say how his views coincided. France has called unrealistic his plan to disarm the world in four years. A final communique in Paris Saturday said only that the two leaders agreed on the need for disarmament.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union will do "everything for the solution of the question of a German peace treaty on a basis acceptable to the Western powers."

Bangor Board Votes 1 Percent Wage Tax

BANGOR—Bangor Borough School Board last night passed a one per cent earned income tax, effective July 1. It covers all Bangor residents.

In acceptance of this tax the board dropped one of its five dollar per capita taxes. It also dropped the five dollar "Privilege of resident" tax.

The board renewed its 16 mills real estate tax and retained one five dollar per capita tax.

The one percent income tax is expected to earn $70,000 on 2,000 taxable residents.

The 1960-61 school budget of $438,048.55 was adopted by the board. This is $43,000 higher than the 1959-60 budget, and it anticipates a balance of $12,000 in the 1960-61 budget.

It was voted by the board not to purchase new buses but to continue renting as is now the policy.

The resignation of Clair Peilly as a school director and treasurer, was read and accepted. The board appointed Mrs. Shirley Matlock to fill Peilly's unexpired term as treasurer.

One application for Peilly's position was received from William J. Baskwill. The board announced that an election will be held April 19 to fill the position.

Isaiah Resh, tax collector, was instructed by the board to make an attachment on wages for all back taxes.

Herbert Crane, financial adviser from Stroudsburg, assisted in the deliberation on the budget.

General Fund Revenue Lags

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Lawrence administration Monday reported that General Fund receipts for the first 10 months of the 1959-61 biennium were $6,200,000 below estimates.

Income for the period from June 1, 1959 through March 31, 1960 showed a total of 550 million dollars, 1.1 percent below the estimated amount.

Receipts from the state's 4 percent sales and use tax and from business taxes showed the biggest lag behind the administration predictions for the period.

The sales tax was $9,100,000 less than estimated and business taxes fell $8,300,000 below the anticipated amount.

Daily Lenten Meditation

John 3:10-21

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (John 3:16.)

The well-known artist George Frederick Watts painted a picture in which he tried to portray the spirit of Christianity. He said he painted it to suggest great thoughts that would appeal to the imagination and the heart, and kindle all that is best and noblest in humanity.

The picture presents a motherly woman enveloped by luminous clouds. She reaches out her hand in help and protection to a number of little children of different races and nationalities who nestle on a cloud at her feet. She is praying for the relief of the needy ones.

How happy this world would be if all professed followers of the Man of Galilee could overcome their bickerings, faultfindings, and petty rivalries! The secret of all social progress is in the upreach of man to God and the Christ-like outreach of man to man.

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, Thou who art love and of exceeding great mercy, look with compassion upon us despite our failures and neglect of duty. Help us to rededicate ourselves to Thee. Make us ambassadors of Christ that we may show to a lost world a religion that serves mankind. In our Master's name. Amen.

Thought for The Day

Wherever there are social problems, we Christians are needed to help solve them.

Says U.S. Strongest In World

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower fired a new broadside at Democratic critics of his defense policies Monday night, saying "only the ignorant and the blind" insist the United States is not the most powerful nation in the world.

At the same time, Eisenhower underscored his endorsement of Vice President Richard M. Nixon to succeed him. And he jabbed at certain Democratic senators he said have gone into "contortional orbit" in hopes of scrambling in to the presidency.

In a speech prepared for the eighth annual Republican Women's Conference, Eisenhower made across-the-board claims of achievements for his administration.

Most Powerful
But some of his most pointed phrases were aimed at Democrats who have been contending his defense policies threaten to open the United States to missile attack — and destruction — by the Soviet Union.

"Our nation is the most powerful in the world," he declared, "and only the ignorant and the blind insist it to be otherwise."

Eisenhower said he is "convinced that our whole defensive structure has been accurately tailored in the light both of national needs and operational efficiency."

He called the GOP the party of accomplishment. He said that during his seven years in office the record has been filled "with such advances as improvements in the health and welfare of our people; the greater soundness, freedom and growth of our economy; increased modernization and strengthening of our defenses; greater prestige abroad and the initiation of a roadbuilding program which dwarfs anything of its kind in all history of all nations."

Have Kept Peace
As for the international front, the President said: "Foremost, we stopped, on honorable terms, the fighting in Korea, and since, have kept the peace. We remember that during the past seven years no American boy has lost his life in battle, nor has our nation been depressed by daily casualty lists."

Eisenhower's speech was the feature of a box supper affair billed as a "Republican victory campaign kickoff."

Addressing himself to that theme, the President asserted: "This year we want and expect to elect a Republican president and are striving to regain control of the House of Representatives and make real gains in the (Democratic-controlled) Senate."

Eisenhower did not specifically link his call for election of a GOP president to his warm praise of Nixon. But he left no doubt that he was plugging for Nixon to succeed him in the White House.

The President last month endorsed Nixon's bid for the presidency. Eisenhower's remarks Monday night were his first in specific praise of the vice president since that endorsement.

Nixon "Talented"
"I see plenty of evidence that you are standing firmly by a decision that many of you here helped to make in 1952," Eisenhower said. "That year our Republic convention turned to a highly talented man for the vice-presidential nomination. None of us ever regretted that choice."

"Dick Nixon has been a credit to the administration, our party, and our country. Since 1952 he has gained nearly eight years of added governmental experience at the highest level — a tour of seasoned unmatched in the nation's history."

"All of us know him as a man of integrity and deep faith — one who is intelligent, mature, and uniquely knowledgeable in the problems and personalities in the world scene. And along with this, he has that priceless gift, a sense of humor — indispensable in politics."

Without naming any of them, Eisenhower hit indirectly at Democratic senators who are seeking their party's presidential nomination.

"It's not my purpose tonight," Eisenhower said, "to take off into oratorical orbit—already we have a number of senatorial hopefuls doing that, each hoping to scramble into the chair I shall soon vacate."

His purpose, the President said, was simply to make a few comments about the coming campaign, the Republican party, the administration's record, "and how we shall serve our country in the coming years."

The Canberra and her crew are scheduled to return to Norfolk by next Thanksgiving.

Interest Noted In CD Shelters

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Civil Defense headquarters says there has been a significant increase in interest in family-size emergency shelters.

"There is definite statewide interest in this activity and I think it contradicts the view that the public is indifferent to civil defense needs," said Dr. Richard Gerstell, state civil defense director.

In recent months the State Council of Civil Defense has filled requests for more than 200,000 booklets telling citizens how to prepare emergency shelters.

Three full-sized models of home shelters are planned for use in demonstrations across the state to meet the growing demand for information.

"These shelters will be fully equipped and should help answer the many requests of citizens who want to know first how to build a shelter and then, what to put in it," he said.

The interest in home shelters has developed so well, he added, that many private builders are including the emergency quarters in architectural plans.

"This is particularly encouraging to us because it serves to stimulate public acceptance of an idea that is an essential part of civil defense," said Gerstell.

Litts Notes Changes In State Policy

JOHN C. LITTS, Monroe County schools superintendent, yesterday was notified of several changes in state policy affecting schools.

They were contained in a letter from Charles H. Boehm, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Boehm pointed out that all female employees be given at least a 30-minute uninterrupted interval daily for rest or lunch as mandated by Public Law 1307. He added, "I understand that enforcement of this Act will begin in September."

Other data included was the signing of a ten-month contract with all new teachers hired. This measure will protect the school board from extra charges.

In Service Funds
Funds are available to provide in-service programs for teachers of elementary education at approximately 100 centers in the state.

The costs of this program is borne by Federal and State governments.

Foreign Language Program
School boards should give consideration to the expansion of modern foreign language with German, Russian, Spanish, French, Italian and Hebrew recommended.

Knowledge of these languages will permit exchange of science information and promote a better world understanding.

Dr. Boehm said in his letter, "The use of electronic teaching devices is now a part of all good school programs. Educational films are not supplementary but basic to some courses of study."

He recommends that all school library services be evaluated and improved.

Portland
THE Woman's Club of Portland will sponsor its annual rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7 in the Fire Hall. Further announcement will be made later.

Wagner Foresees School Reforms

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) said yesterday the time is ripe for education reforms in Pennsylvania. He added that reckless spending for schools isn't the answer.

Unless the 1961 legislature is shown a sound program dealing in specifics, he predicted, it is doubtful any increase in financial aid to schools will be approved. In any event, he said efforts to raise taxes for school purposes face a tough hurdle.

Census Brings Out 'Hold Back'

BOSTON (AP)—A woman census taker became alarmed when a man came running down the street after her yesterday. His explanation brought a broad smile. The man said that he had listed his salary $750 below the actual figure while his wife was looking on. He asked the census taker to change it back to the correct amount so he wouldn't get in trouble with the government.

He had been pocketing the $750 for "personal expenses" without his wife's knowledge.

Powlette Elected Councilman At Bangor; Policeman Quits

BANGOR — Joseph Powlette, Fourth Ward Democrat, was elected to replace Daniel Sylvester, Fourth Ward Republican who resigned in March, at a meeting of Bangor Borough Council last night.

Powlette was sworn in as a member of council by Burgess Quintus LaBar. His term expires at the end of 1961.

Russell Yahracs, borough patrolman, resigned as an extra policeman, effective April 15. Council will receive applications for the position at the May meeting.

Complaints were received from members of the sanitation committee that residents of Pen Argyl and Washington Township have been dumping garbage and refuse at the borough dump.

The committee was instructed to take the necessary steps to stop this action.

To Republish Regulations

In order to improve the collection system for borough garbage, council directed that the regulations be republished. It also said any citizen who fails to comply with the regulations will be prosecuted under borough ordinances.

Councilman John L. Williams reported on an interview he recently had with officials of Heyer Products Corp. relative to the large number of layoffs in the firm's labor force.

The company informed Williams that the layoffs were seasonal and common to the industry. The firm manufactures electronics equipment and recently moved into the borough.

Heyer is a State Belt Industrial Assn. sponsored industry and money for its establishment here was raised by area residents.

The firm normally employs 400 persons and is now down to about 260.

Williams also said he felt it was the responsibility of the industrial association to keep investors in the corporation informed as to problems relative to the industry. Council took no action.

To Buy Blower

Samuel Hicks, chairman of the safety committee, reported his group had sanctioned the purchase of a suction blower for use of the fire department at a cost of approximately $130. Council approved the committee action.

Gilford Dunlop, representing an insurance firm, which holds coverage on borough buildings, told council the new rate will be 37.1 a hundred, a drop of over nine percent. He said it will represent a saving of $870 over a five-year period in premiums.

Frank Powell, borough insurance broker of record, tendered his resignation during the meeting and council agreed to appoint a new broker at the May meeting.

Residents of N. Eighth St., headed by Michael Romano, a mill owner in that vicinity, complained of water damage to properties in the area as a result of surface water.

$2,000 Damage

Romano claimed he suffered some $2,000 in the past five years due to lack of proper drainage facilities. Other residents confirmed his statements.

Council authorized David O. Pritchard, borough engineer and members of the street committee to plan necessary corrections.

The street committee was also instructed to proceed with necessary patching of borough streets.

Bridge St. Dike Plans Formulated

SECRETARY of Forests and Waters Maurice K. Goddard reported yesterday that plans are definitely being made for the construction of a flood control dike to protect Bridge St.

Reporting to Monroe County Rep. Van D. Yetter in Harrisburg yesterday, Dr. Goddard said a complete report has been received from the county office of the department and he is convinced that such a dike is needed for that area.

Dr. Goddard said the dike would be so constructed as to protect the Bridge St. section from a flood as bad as that of 1955.

Residue Of Funds

Financing of the project, he said, would come from the residue of funds following the awarding of the contract, April 26 for the Broadheads Creek flood control.

Dr. Goddard said much interest has been generated in the Broadhead project among contractors. The first day plans were available, about ten copies were sold to prospective bidders.

25 Inches Of Precipitation

MORE than 25 inches of precipitation fell on the Stroudsburg during March, according to The Daily Record's rain gauge.

The month came in like the proverbial lion with 21 inches of snow falling on Thursday, March 3.

This was followed by a two to three-inch fall on March 16. An additional 20 of an inch of precipitation was recorded on Monday, March 7.

The month closed on a wet note, too, with a total of .97 of an inch of rain falling in the two-day period of March 30 and 31.

Nottle said Kirkpatrick was traveling east on the highway one mile east of here when he failed to negotiate a turn, went over a 30-foot embankment and landed in Bushkill Creek. The car was demolished and Kirkpatrick was pinned in the wreckage for some time.

Businessmen Name Units, Plan Days

THE MARCH meeting of the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. was held at Colonial Diner last night. President, Herman Lax, presided.

It was announced that May 12-13 and 14 will be promotion days in Stroudsburg. The event will be tied in with various exhibits on display in most stores, which will be supplied by the pupils of the area schools. Complete details on this affair will be forwarded to members of the assn. later this month.

The following committees were appointed for this year by Herman Lax.

Promotion — Jess Pierson, Chairman; Charles Edmundson, Chester Miller, Benton Silver.

Membership — A. A. Widmer, Chairman; Ted Getz, Jack Reaney, John Baymor.

Budget and Finance — Jack Mullins, Chairman; Don Holmgren, Nathan Smith.

Dinner — Harry Albert Mullins, Chairman; Ed Steinhauer, Anthony Chiccone.

Traffic — Jess Pierson, Chairman; William P. Wells, Larry Brown.

Nomination — Harrison Taylor, Chairman; Bert George, Odell Smith.

Christmas Store Hours — Jack Kerlin, Chairman; Nathan Smith, Harold Jacobs.

Christmas Lighting Fund — Glen Kendrick, Chairman; Jack Mullins, Marshall Feinsilber, Ralph Brodsky, John Baymor, Paul Shuman, Earle Everett.

Christmas Lighting — (To be Appointed).

Planning — Chester Miller, R. Heller, Harold Jacobs and Jack Reaney.

A suggestion was entertained that stores might remain open Thursday night this week and Thursday night next week in addition to regular Friday night openings. It seemed to be the popular opinion of the 26 members present that Friday night store openings this week and next would be sufficient.

The next regular meeting of the assn. will be held Monday night May 2.

Dear Abby

Now Give Him Some Affection

Dear Abby: I gave my husband 10 children. I've been married 35 years and haven't been kissed in 25 years. I don't remember the last time my husband said, "I love you."

I've had to beg for every cent he ever gave me. The only good thing I can say for him is he is a good earner and he doesn't chase. How do you get a husband to look at you once in a while when he's gotten out of the habit?

the party by picking arguments with other guests? Two people I know (one man and one woman — not related) spoil every party they attend for this reason. We owe them invitations and I don't want them. My husband says everyone knows that certain people start an argument when they drink too much, and no one takes offense.

Should I just invite these people and let them insult my other guests and hope that those who are insulted "understand?" Don't tell me not to have anything to do with people like that because they are important business contacts for my husband.

Dear Hostess: The best solution is to invite them over (or out) to an "intimate" little dinner party with just you and them, and let them insult each other.

Dear Abby: Would you, or any of your readers, ever have the nerve to tell a couple, "You and your husband are welcome in our home—but don't bring your children until they grow up!"

That's what my husband told some friends of ours. This couple came over with their children (5, 7, and 9). Our own children are about the same ages as theirs, but they have been taught to obey us. The visiting children were told not to touch my sewing machine but they got into it anyway. They pulled every drawer out, turned the machine upside down and of course the machine was thrown out of order. That's when my husband laid down the law.

They all left in a huff and I feel terrible about it. Should I telephone and apologize?

MRS. O. Dear Mrs. D.: Not unless you want Papa and Mamma and the three little cypresses back again.

Confidential to Maryan Pike (age 15): Please go home, your mother is heartbroken. You will not be punished.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants To Know," send 25c and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Michigan's Governor Thanks MYF

NEWFOUNDLAND — A letter from Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams was read during the meeting of the Green-town-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship held at Hemlock Grove Church, Green-town.

Gov. Williams thanked the MYF for their letter commending him for his appointment of the first Negro official ever to serve in a State post.

The governor noted that his appointment of Otis Smith as auditor general was on the basis of merit, and that his action was backed by the people of his State.

The group voted to take up a special collection for CARE during the April 10 meeting, which will feature election of officers and will begin promptly at 7 p.m. at the Moravian Church.

The meeting was preceded by a covered dish supper at which the guests of the Fellowship were returned missionaries William and Grace Cutts. Mr. Cutts is a native of this area, having been graduated from the local high school. This was his first visit to the area in six years.

The missionaries to the Moni tribe in New Guinea presented a program of slides and a message during a service following the MYF meeting. Life in New Guinea, where the people are still living in the Stone Age, was described.

Extension For Living Area Of Home

THIS SPRING and summer, extend the living area of your home with the new Awnair Aluminum patio awning. Local dealer Sheldon Newell, of 129 Huston Avenue in Stroudsburg points out that Awnair is not "just another" aluminum awning but has a number of features that set it out from other awnings.

Awnair is custom-built to your specifications in the Awnair factory and shipped out especially for you. It is constructed of lifetime metals, heavy gauge aluminum and stainless steel. Use of these materials gives you a weather-proof job with nothing to rust, corrode or become unsightly. The heavy gauge aluminum portions of Awnair are finished in Pressurecoat Porcelain. Porcelain is permanent and remains bright in all kinds of weather. It's superior baked-on finish won't chip, peel, or rust, ever!

Blend Or Contrast

Driving Is Fun Again In Renault's Dauphine

LOOKING for the "old thrill" of driving? Enthusiastic owners of the smart little Renault Dauphine are finding that "Driving is fun again" in a Renault. The reasons are endless... economy... ease of handling... ease of parking, etc.

Take economy for instance; the Dauphine gets up to 40 miles per gallon of gas... change the oil, a mere 2½ quarts do the job.

Ease of handling on the open road or in downtown traffic is a "snap"... you move around with unbelievable ease. Parking is accomplished with untold ease.

Added Features

The Dauphine is a four-door sedan with many plus features not offered in any other car.

To get to the spare tire, one need not even open the trunk.

A high efficiency heater is included on all models as are turn signals. One delightful little extra is the town and country horn. A flip of the switch gives a soft town signal while the other position gives a loud road clearing command.

Engine and exhaust noises are in the rear as that is where the engine is. No heat at your feet and all exhaust gases are carried off to the rear; no fumes ever.

To learn more about the Renault Dauphine, stop in at Barrett Auto Service, Post Office Building, Mountainhome.

Mouldings Fine

AN EASY project for the home handyman is the application of mouldings to add design to plain fireplaces, to form wall patterns suggestive of a picture frame to set off prized pieces of furniture, or to make a room look longer or higher.

Hamill's Paint Showing Latest In Marine Finishes

HAMILL'S Paint Center, 37 South Courtland Street, East Stroudsburg, is now featuring the very latest and greatest product for marine finishing and other exterior-interior coating jobs.

Once again U-G-L (United Gilsonite Laboratories) has produced a coating so superior that it will outlast the best varnishes and lacquers two or three times.

The product is ZAR, a crystalline coating that is a revolutionary development in the manufacture of durable, marine finishes. Not a varnish—not a lacquer, ZAR imparts and retains that "showroom" look for several seasons. Ideal for use on brightwork, decks, topsides, spars, etc.

ZAR eliminates the frequent, costly layups for refinishing and mid-season touchups normally required with other finishes... resists sun, salt water and scuffing two to three times longer than the best varnishes.

Demands Quality

Marine exposure demands a quality finish... the rigors of day after day exposure to the damaging rays of the sun, constant contact with fresh or salt water and the continual scuffing and abrasion received from normal boat usage are the primary "enemies" of marine finishes. Test after test has proven conclusively that ZAR combats these factors far longer than other available marine finishes.

ZAR eliminates the frequent, lustre, amazing toughness and flexibility, quick drying, ease of application, reduced maintenance costs.

There is no doubt that ZAR is a great boon to boat owners and home owners alike and this amazing product can be obtained at Hamill's Paint Center along with many other U-G-L products.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Excitement is something like ketchup. Either it doesn't happen at all or it happens with such a gush that you can't possibly use it all up.

The afternoon was quiet, warm and, to tell the truth, a little dull. Coming back from the supper hour, however, the electricity in the clouds seemed to generate an electric spirit on the ground.

The rain came down so hard it bounced. The Stroud Twp. fire whistle went off in my ear to signal a plane had come down, and when I got back to the office there was a 20-pound snapping turtle in the middle of the office.

I gave it a wide berth, since in my only other experience with those behemoths of the antediluvian world the turtle snapped a broomstick right in two with one snap of those powerful jaws. From a safe distance I inspected it warily and observed: "It looks a little sick."

It should, the boys informed me, since it was quite dead. Well, a dead snapping turtle I can step over. But there was nothing dead about the storm outside which kept flashing lightning and snapping against the windows.

Folks with cottages along the river were calling up to check on how fast the river was rising. The water level in the office threatened to rise, too, after Mac and Shaffer came back from their plane story which wasn't a crash but a landing.

The pilot maybe didn't get wet but the newspaper men sure did. Their coats dripped and their shoes squished, and the humidity rose.

Passover Choral Reading For Sisterhood

A choral reading, "Mah Nishtanah" will be presented in preparation for the coming Passover holidays at the meeting of the Temple Israel Sisterhood tonight at 8 in the vestry rooms. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Joshua Soden.

Further plans will be made for the coming bazaar, and members are asked to bring their contributions of canned goods and white elephants. A new shipment of gifts traditional with the Passover has been received and will be on display at the gift shop at the meeting.

Garden Club Board

The Monroe County Garden Club will hold an executive board meeting on Thursday at 1:30 at the YMCA.

To Please Your Customers Please Yourself First

By Anne Heywood
Emerson said: "Write to yourself and you write to an eternal public."
In writing or music or painting or any of the arts—and in the crafts and business as well—the person who aims to please himself will triumph in the end. The person who changes to please this audience or that segment of consumers or these readers may have an occasional temporary success but in the long run he will fail.

Stick To It
It is sometimes hard with pressure going against you, but if you stick to what you feel is right for you, the customers will eventually come around to your way of thinking.

I know two women who make pies and cakes for sale. One has always made the same kind of pies—apple, pumpkin, chocolate cream. She has never gone in for low-calorie pies, or wheat-germ, or yogurt pies, or switched her pattern to fit any temporary trend. She has had a phenomenally successful home business for 30 years.

Changed With Vogue
The other has been changing to fit each passing fad, for the 12 years she has been in business. Whenever a certain kind of pie enjoyed a real vogue, she dropped everything and went in for it.

She failed last month because, with all the constant changing, she never stayed with the kind until she had it really perfected. Moreover, her customers never knew quite what to expect; no sooner had they got fond of a certain kind of pie than they discovered she had dropped it from her list to concentrate on a novel kind. I was talking recently with

Local Rebekah Lodge Marks 50th Birthday At Banquet

The charter members of Rachel Brodhead Rebekah Lodge, No. 3831, IOOF, were honored at the banquet held on Saturday night at Mountain Manor, Marshalls Creek with 90 persons attending.

The charter members present included Ida Keller, who served as treasurer of the lodge for 47 of the 50 years, Miss Ruth Piper and Mrs. Blanche Parsons. They were introduced by Mrs. Bernice Kulp who served as master of ceremonies when illness prevented the attendance of Dr. James A. Gavin.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Edith Parcell, chaplain, and the address of welcome by Mrs. Dorothy Heller, noble grand.

A history of the organization was read by Miss Lottie Gum and there were brief remarks by the Blanche Fleming and Jennie Robertson.

Mrs. Estella Granacher, district deputy president of Monroe County Rebekah Lodges; and James Agins Jr., Noble Grand of Fort Penn Lodge, Odd Fellows, also brought their greetings.

After dinner the group adjourned to the recreation hall where they were entertained with a dance review given by Shirley's School of the Dance, and by a recital by the Choralists of East Stroudsburg High School under the direction of Kenneth Raessler.

Mrs. Bonser Honored On 76th Birthday

Mrs. Martha Bonser, Stroudsburg, celebrated her 76th birthday yesterday when she was a dinner guest at Besecker's Dining, Snyder's, entertained by her three daughters, Mrs. Florence Henning, Mrs. Hattie Lasher and Mrs. Owen Mosteller.

She was presented with a carnation corsage by her granddaughter, Martha Jane Henning and her grandson, Charles Lasher Jr.

Should He Change His Work To Suit Patron's Ideas?

he found exactly the right kind of composer writing the right kind of music.

Until then, other violinists could play the kind of modern music that treats the violin as though it were a washboard, but he stuck with the music he liked. This always takes courage—but it always guarantees a successful and happy ending.

Think Twice
If you are tempted to give your public, big or small, what you think they want instead of what you want to give, think twice before you do; otherwise, you may regret it bitterly.

(If you're facing such a decision and would like help in solving it, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll give you some pointers.)

"THE PRESENCE OF A DOCTOR IS THE FIRST PART OF A CURE"

—A French proverb (author unknown)

When using home remedies or patent medicines it is important to understand their benefits and limitations.

Taken at the first sign of a headache, stomach distress, muscular pain, etc., relief sometimes comes quickly from an uncomplicated condition.

But, if any of the symptoms return, then self-treatments though giving temporary relief may be masking an accumulating problem that may eventually endanger your very life.

To cure, a physician's diagnosis of the cause is essential. One should be consulted as soon as possible.

Smooth Shave Seen Swim Marks Answer

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The records that topped at the National AAU swimming and diving championships may lead to a rush on razor blades by the nation's mermen.

Some experts stick to the theory that the incredibly fast times at the meet at Yale were due to the fact that this happens to be an Olympic year.

But some others couldn't help but link the sensational performances with the fact that the fastest swimmers were slick as submarines.

For example, Lt. (jg) John McGill took the 220-yard individual medley in 2:03.3—after having shaved his chest, arms and legs.

McGill, ordinarily a "very hairy guy," showed up for the event as smooth as a grape. His best previous time was 2:11.1.

Bob Kipnuth, former Yale coach and now coach of the New Haven Swim Club, said the body shave was started by the Australians back in 1956.

"Last year it was quite the rage among many swimmers," he said. Michigan swimmers shaved their bodies at a recent meet, he said, "and they just killed everybody."

He estimated that about 75 per cent of swimmers in meets shave their bodies.

Now Kipnuth would like to find out definitely whether a shaved body actually can propel faster in the water than an unshaven one.

"You've seen swimmers from underwater windows. You can see how air bubbles collect in the hair on their legs, he said Monday.

"Perhaps a fluid engineer can figure out whether an air bubble will act something like a barnacle and actually slow down a swimmer."

Pale Hose Favored In AL Added Punch Seen Giving Lopez Nine Bigger Margin

By Joe Reichler Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Chicago's White Sox having added punch without easing their strong pitching, loosening their tight defense or slowing up their "go-go" type of offense, are this corner's choice to capture the American League pennant in 1960.

Even if 40-year-old Early Wynn falls short of his 22-victory total of last year, the addition, by trades, of sluggers Minnie Minoso, Gene Freese and Roy Sievers, should enable Al Lopez's defending champions to win by a more comfortable margin than they did last year.

The trio should provide the long ball, Chicago's main weakness last year. Outfielder Minoso, third baseman Freese, and first baseman-outfielder Sievers together hit 64 homers and drove in 211 runs even though Sievers, injured much of last year, had a poor season.

The Yankees' expected rise is traced to the acquisition of slugger Roger Maris, who together with Mickey Mantle, could supply the team with the one-two punch it lacked last year. Mantle is too good a player to suffer through two straight sad seasons.

The surprise of the league may be Baltimore's Orioles whose fine young pitchers could lift them into the first division for the first time in their brief tenure in the American League. Detroit easily is the best of the rest with Boston, Kansas City and Washington trailing behind.

The order of finish

1. Chicago
2. New York
3. Cleveland
4. Baltimore
5. Detroit
6. Kansas City
7. Boston
8. Washington

Concern over the advanced age of the White Sox pitching staff appears unfounded. True, Wynn is 40, Dick Donovan is 32, Billy Pierce is 33, and relief ace Gerry Staley and Turk Lown are 39 and 35, respectively. But right-hander Bob Shaw, an 18-game winner, is 26 as is southpaw Frank Baumann and Barry Latman is only 23. Don Ferrarese, another probable starter, is 30.

Chicago's strength is down-the-middle, from catcher Sherm Lollar to center-fielder Jim Landis right through the pitching and the Nellie Fox-Luis Aparicio double play combination.

The Yankees' weakness is pitching and shortstop. Whitey Ford is still dependable and Art Ditmar has looked good but Bob Turley appears confused and uncertain. Duke Maas has a sore arm and Ryne Duren appears to be favoring the knee he injured last year.

Bill Skowron, as usual, is having a tremendous spring. The Moose, along with Yogi Berra, Hector Lopez, Elston Howard, Maris and Mantle represent power. Bobby Richardson, the little second baseman, has been superb. Tony Kubek, the shortstop, hasn't rounded into form.

The addition of second baseman Johnny Temple undoubtedly has strengthened and stabilized the Cleveland infield but the feeling is that Manager Joe Gordon paid dearly for it. The loss of McLish has made the sometimes brilliant, often times uncertain Herb Score the oldest and most experienced starter and he's only 26. Jim Grant is 24, Gary Bell is 23 and Jim Perry is 24. Jack Harshman, journeyman southpaw is 32 but his starts are few and far between.

Paul Richards has fashioned a young ball club ideally suited to Baltimore's Municipal Stadium. That is, strong pitching, tight defense with an occasional show of hitting strength. This kind of set-up puts an exceptional burden on the pitchers. Fortunately, the Orioles have an abundance of that commodity. Right-handers Mill Pappas, Jerry Walker, Jack Fisher and Chuck Estrada, all under 22, readily have it.

The 1960 edition of the Tigers is essentially the same team that started off so miserably last season under Bill Norman, blazed like tinderwood when Jimmy Dykes took over only to burn out and settle into a fourth place finish.

A's Spotted 6th Ex-Yankees Hank Bauer, Norm Siebern, Jerry Lumpe, Johnny Kucks, Bob Grim and Don Larsen should enable the Athletics to stay ahead of the Red Sox and Senators. Bud Daley, Ray Herbert and Ned Garver, along with Kucks should comprise a fair pitching staff.

The retirement of Jackie Jensen and Sammy White and the probable semi-retirement of the great Ted Williams robs the Red Sox of at least 50 per cent of their offense. Frank Malzone and Pete Runnels are the only established full-time stars left.

Washington probably will score a lot of runs because of such home run hitters as Harmon Killebrew, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison.

Celts' Heinshohn 'After' Lovellette

BOSTON (AP)—An angry Tommy Heinshohn Monday vowed he'll get even for a two-stitch cut he got over his left eye in Sunday's Boston-St. Louis National Basketball Assn. game.

The Hawks won the nationally-televased game in St. Louis 106-96, knotting the best-of-seven playoff series at two games each. The fifth game will be played here Tuesday night.

Heinshohn, Boston's top scorer, got a black eye and a cut in a collision with St. Louis' 6-foot-10 Clyde Lovellette.

"If I did hit him, it was purely accidental," Lovellette said. "I never threw an elbow intentionally in my life."

"Accident my eye," Heinshohn retorted.

"That big goon has caused too many accidents" in this league. I'll tell you one thing. If Clyde wants to get rough, we'll accommodate him, starting right here in Boston Tuesday night," Heinshohn said.

Auerbach Speaks Other Celtics players and coach Red Auerbach joined in.

"If any college kids watched those games over TV, their minds must have been made up to play AAU ball in the future," Auerbach said. They're really climbing all over us. Well, if that's the way it's going to be officiated we're in for a rugged time.

But the complaints didn't come all from the Celtics. The rough series already has produced one fight, and the Hawks had their gripes, too.

Lovellette has claimed that Frank Ramsey is bumping or blocking him when they line up along the foul lane, hoping to spring loose Bill Russell.

NO SNAP LEFT in this snapping turtle shot by Dale Grover, 14, holding his prize. Dale shot the shelled beast in Turley's Cove at 5 p.m. yesterday. He lives at 790 Bryant St., Stroudsburg.

Trout Californian

Trout anglers are already busy in some states while in others they have only a few days to wait. Dedicate your first four or five rainbows or browns of the season to this recipe and your list of favorite dishes will get immediate relief! Here's how:

Melt 1 stick butter in skillet then add 2 tablespoons minced green onion, 1 tablespoon minced onion tops, 1 four-oz. can of mushrooms (sliced) and mushroom liquid, 2/3 cup Sauterne wine, 1/2 cup fish broth, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Bring to a boil, add trout, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Remove fish to a warm platter in oven and reduce pan liquids by cooking 5 minutes.

Add 1/2 cup cream and when heated thoroughly pour over trout. Garnish with sprigs of parsley.

To make fish broth, cut up a small fish such as a bluegill, perch or bullhead and cook in 2 cups water for 10 minutes. If you can't get fish broth for the above recipe, use water and 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Spit Barbecued Quail If, perchance, a rotisserie should find its way into your home—you know, anniversary gift, birthday present, or such—you are in luck because almost all game becomes super-delicious under the magical heat . . . nearly as good as when prepared outdoors!

And if your freezer still holds several quail, consider your luck to be running very high! Gently grilled on the revolving spit and basted every 7 minutes with barbecue sauce results in a product that will have your audience (and we mean audience!) drooling!

With the heat set on high, broil the quail until they begin to brown. Then reduce heat to medium and cook until done. They should be on the table in 35 minutes at the most.

Rain Slows Practice For Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Rain dripped down on the green Augusta National Golf Course Monday as a few hardy, or hopeful, golfers got in some practice links for the 24th Masters Tournament, starting Thursday.

It was a dismal setting for what is usually one of the most exciting and colorful of all golf events.

Rain has been falling here for about a week. The soaked red clay soil is heavy and the grass was long until the mowers finally went out on the fairways Monday.

"It's long—you don't know how late it is," Ken Venturi told a late arrival.

So Close But Venturi is the handsome young pro who had the Masters title in his hands four years ago until he blew up on the last round. That was when he still was an amateur—one of a group that never has succeeded in winning the Masters. Ever since then it has been his consuming ambition to win this tournament more than any other.

Venturi has been here several days trying out the Augusta National course, a big, broad par 36-36-72 layout which stretches out to 6,800 yards at its longest and averages about 6,550 yards for tournament play.

Some of the other early arrivals included Arnold Palmer, winner two years ago, three-time victor Sam Snead and husky Mike Souchak, all of whom must be ranked among the tournament favorites.

The consensus is that with the course in its present condition, it will take a real better to win this year.

Orange Drills Washed Out SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Week-end rains washed out Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's plans to open spring drills Monday for his defending champion Syracuse University football team.

Schwartzwalder said he hoped to complete the allotted 20 days of training before April 30, when a windup game between the varsity and an alumni team is scheduled.

Exhibition Baseball By The Associated Press Cincinnati vs. Detroit at Lakeland, Fla., cancelled, rain.

Senators Trade Sievers To Chisox For Two, Cash

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—One of the most persistent attempts to land a player in recent baseball history ended Monday when the Chicago White Sox traded Roy Sievers from the Washington Senators.

The Sox had been after him for four years, finally getting the 33-year-old slugger for $150,000 cash and two players—Earl Battey, a fine defensive catcher, and Don Mincher, promising 21-year-old first baseman who triggered 22 homers and 92 rbi's last year with Charleston, S.C. in the Sally League.

"Insurance Policy" "Sievers will be a great insurance policy for us," said Sox Manager Al Lopez. "He can spell Ted Kluszewski at first base or Minnie Minoso in left field. And when he's not doing that he can pinch hit."

Sievers was injured much of last year, but managed to hit 21 homers and drive in 49 runs. In six seasons with the Senators, he collected 180 homers and averaged 96 rbi's.

One of the many rejected offers the Sox made for him was last June when President Bill Veeck presented a five-player package and $250,000 for Sievers, catcher Clint Courtney and pitcher Russ Kemmerer.

Last week president Cal Griffith of the Senators offered to part with Sievers in an even trade for Battey and utility infielder Sammy Esposito. Lopez was reluctant to let go of Esposito, who can fill in at third, short or second.

In Chicago, Veeck said the addition of Sievers climaxes a series of Sox deals to solve the long ball problem.

Joins Long Hitters "With Sievers, Minoso and (Gene) Freese, we think the long ball pretty much will take care of itself," said Veeck. "And that's not mentioning Big Klu, who is hitting .370 and is getting that home run range, and catcher Sherm Lollar."

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees said the move "undoubtedly gave Chicago a little more batting punch, which they were looking for."

The usually loquacious Stengel didn't say what he thought of Chicago's chances to repeat as the American League pennant winner. He conceded, however, that the addition of Sievers "makes the Sox tougher."

Charges for shipping horses by air vary, depending on the time of year, length of the trip and other factors. But it isn't exactly cheap.

On an overseas shipment, for example, between London and New York City, the fee would run about $106-a-pound for horse, stall feed and water, and an average race horse weighs between 800 and 1,200 pounds. The charge for the groom's transportation is extra.

Rates for shipments inside the U.S. are somewhat lower. From New York to Los Angeles, for instance, the charge is down to well below 45 cents per pound.

Back in 1949, when McCabe got the idea for his business, he was working as an airline mechanic at New York City's busy LaGuardia field. He tried to interest his airline bosses in the idea of setting up a special department to handle race horses. They turned him down, so he quit and started his own firm.

In his first year he handled fewer than 300 horses. In one of his busiest weeks last year, he had race horses in the air on 35 separate flights. During that busy period, one of his flying grooms was in the air 108 hours in 10 days.

"Lifted" Champs In his decade in business, McCabe has arranged the aerial hauling of some real champions. There was Determine, who winged in from New York to Louisville to win the Kentucky Derby.

Correlation was another McCabe-arranged aerial transportation deal from Los Angeles to Florida. There, the high-money winner copped the $100,000 Florida Handicap, then was flown on another air freighter to New York, where he romped off with the $100,000 Wood Memorial at Belmont Park. For one running of the International Stakes at Laurel in Maryland, McCabe flew in every horse in the race, including those entered by Britain's Queen Elizabeth.

Not Owner McCabe doesn't own or operate any airplanes himself. He merely books the space on regular air freighters just as a regular travel agent books space for a vacationist. Then, in addition to providing in-flight stalls, safety gear and a groom, Hatfield Named Travelers Pilot LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Fred Hatfield, former American League infielder Monday was named manager of the Little Rock Travelers of the Southern Assn.

The 35-year-old third baseman will fly from Yuma, Ariz., to the Travelers' camp at Winter Garden, Fla. Hatfield has been training with the Vancouver team.

Hatfield played in the American League with Boston, Detroit and Chicago.

Martin To Open For Redlegs LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Former American Leaguer Billy Martin definitely will open at second base for the Reds, Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson said Monday.

Hutchinson also placed his stamp of approval on rookie right fielder Tony Gonzalez. Although Gonzalez still is on the Havana roster, Hutchinson commented "The kid looks like he can do it all."

Think In Terms Of Risk

By William A. Doyle

Q. We own common stock in just two companies, Hartford Electric Light Co. and Western Massachusetts Co. We cannot afford to take a chance on anything except the safest kind of stock. Do you think we should switch out of these stocks into something safer?

A. You use the word "safe." Actually, when you talk about stocks you should think about degrees of risk—rather than degrees of safety. Because, as has been pointed out here often, there is some risk in all stocks.

But, by owning these two stocks, you have cut that risk down close to a bare minimum. They are sound investment situations. Both of these utility companies have good, conservative records.

Based on their present market values and current dividends, these stocks are yielding a shade better than 4½ percent. They are not the kind of stocks that are likely to skyrocket in price. Nor are they likely to take bad dips in price. That makes them pretty well suited for you.

These two are typical of many utility company stocks. They form a good foundation upon which to build an investment portfolio.

Q. I would like to buy stock in Yankee Atomic Electric Co., a company building a nuclear electric-generating plant at Rowe, Mass. Is the stock available?

A. No. All the stock of Yankee Atomic Electric is owned by 11 electric utility companies in the New England states. Yankee Atomic Electric is a joint venture of these 11 companies. So, to own an indirect interest in Yankee Atomic Electric, you can buy stock in one of the 11 companies.

There are now 26 nuclear (atomic) energy projects under way, with 132 of the nation's electric utility companies participating. Of these, 17 involve construction of atomic power plants, three of which are already in operation. The other nine are study, research and development projects and may lead to further construction.

There is, of course, a great deal of study, research and development even in the plants already "on the line" or under construction. Atomic power generation is still a new science.

Q. Is it usually extra risky to buy stock that is being offered to one state only?

A. It would be wrong to answer your question with a flat "yes." Maybe it would be wrong even to reply "usually." But the fact that securities are offered only in one state can often be a red flag of warning.

Some sharp and shady promoters do avoid stricter regulation (by the Securities and Exchange Commission) simply by offering securities (some of which aren't the least bit secure) only in one state.

Some states do an excellent job of regulating securities' offerings. But, in any case, it is always smart to check and double-check any offering made only to the residents of one state.

And, if any of these one-state offerings promise a fantastically high return in dividends or interest or hold out the lure of fast profits, be especially wary.

Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Life Sentence Given Accessory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Charles E. Coleman, 28, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday for the 1957 murder-robbery of a South Philadelphia food importer.

Gaetano Sabelli was killed during the robbery and Coleman was arrested shortly afterward.

Police held Coleman for nearly a year as a material witness until the arrest of Frank McCoy, 32, named as the triggerman. McCoy has been sentenced to death.

A third man involved in the case, James Allen, 30, was sentenced to life.

Coleman, before sentencing by Judge Bernard J. Kelly, said he was innocent. He admitted driving the car in which McCoy and Allen were riding but testified he didn't know they were going to commit a robbery.

BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD MEMBER'S SAVINGS ON THIS HOSPITAL CASE . . . $1,735.80

" . . . getting her well again is all that really matters — but our Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection has certainly helped!"

A sick child! Few anxieties of this world can compare with those caused by the serious illness of the small ones in our family circle!

In "the old days", this period of anxiety frequently was accompanied by tragic financial complications . . . because naturally, whatever the family income, no expense is spared on such occasions. What heartening changes, to-day, in this picture!

Blue Cross and Blue Shield offer not only the modern life-saving benefits which medical science has perfected in recent years . . . thus providing children and grownups alike infinitely more chances for speedy and safe recovery than ever before existed . . . but do so at rates that put these superb services within the reach of all but the indigent. Under the Blue Cross "All Service" Co-Op membership, for instance, hospital bills of formerly staggering proportions prove to be "paid-in-full" with the exception of the comparatively minor "Co-Op" payment . . . and, indeed, in cases where hospitalization must extend beyond 15 days (maximum "Co-Op" period in any 12 months, no matter how many are on the agreement) frequently there is no balance to pay the hospital. At the same time, Blue Shield provides stalwart help for the doctor bills that inevitably accompany a hospital stay. So, whether there's "just you", or you're a part of a family unit, Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection is a must for all but the few of unlimited means. Get details on these "stand-by-you" benefits through group where you work . . . otherwise, join through "Non-Group".
